

Hi,

The 2013 JDP is all over, well done to all. Many thanks to the everyone that helped during the year, especially the driver trainers, and our BBQ cook, Pete. Many thanks to Sprint Auto Parts at Edwardstown and D&D Mechanical at Goolwa.

We have some cars in storage which will be available for anyone to use for hillclimbs and Regularities. Don't forget, you need to drive in a Mallala event before qualifying for the 6 Hour Regularity. Below is a list of events for early 2014. It was great to see Lauren and Brodie at the November Modern Regularity.

After watching the last modern regularity, I realized that we may need to include a training session on the fundamentals of the Racing Line & Cornering. Below are some youtube clips. It's American so the terms are slightly different to what I've heard. Here in Australia, there are 4 parts of a corner

- Approach
- Entry (turn in)
- Apex
- Exit (turn out)

The principles are the same by increasing the radius to enable you to carry more speed though the corner.

These clips fail to clarify what you should be doing during the cornering phases.

- Approach – position the car, brake and select the gear for the exit
- Entry to Apex – steering
- Beyond the Apex – accelerate - as the clips say, if you get the entry and apex correct, the car should position itself correctly for the exit
